Requires
MANAGER-Business Development

TIMed, the first medical devices incubator in the country promoted by the SCTIMST, requires a young enthusiastic professional on its team to pursue business development activities aimed at reaching out to potential MedTech entrepreneurs and startups. The role will be primarily to increase awareness about TIMed among university students, researchers and entrepreneurs, to ensure that a strong pipeline of new proposals is created and constantly renewed. The selected candidate is expected to evangelise entrepreneurship and will need to spend time reaching out to the stakeholder community. A key aspect of the job will be to build strong relationships with government programs and departments dealing with the startup ecosystem.

The right candidate will need a university degree in science, engineering or business management with relevant experience in the incubators, startups, entrepreneurship promotion ecosystem.

Salary is negotiable and based on qualification and experience, will not be a constraint. The position is purely on contract basis and appointment is made by SCTIMST-TIMED which is a not-for-profit registered society.

Those who believe that they fit the requirement should apply attaching an updated CV with photo and a note outlining why they feel they are suitable for this job and how they can contribute to TIMed.

The applications must reach before 25th March 2017 by email to: timed.tbi@gmail.com marking subject as Manager-Business Development
